Learner Development SIG Financial Report September 2023 to March 2024

The previous LL report came out just before the LD30 conference. At that time, I reported on the generous support and funding that we had received for the event and was cautiously optimistic that we would be able to celebrate the SIG's anniversary conference without any financial worries. This was also helped by an unexpected windfall in the form of profit-sharing from PanSIG (¥160,000) and the largest grant from JALT Central Office (JCO) (¥65,250) since the pandemic. We had also already received the bulk of early bird payments, without yet paying any of the conference expenses so the SIG account was looking particularly buoyant. Thanks to all the hard work of the organizers, the wonderful energy of the presenters, and the active participation in the event by members like yourself, LD30 was a great success as a conference and things also came together financially due to help from Gakushuin University, GILE-SIG, TD-SIG, KUIS (who paid the plenary speaker Prof. Phil Benson's airfare) and Phil himself (who waived his honorarium). Overall, after all expenses were paid, there was a modest profit which allowed us to repay the contributions from the GILE-SIG and TD-SIG plus a little extra, leaving ¥28,000 profit overall for the LD-SIG. Much later, in January 2024, after we had introduced the proposed budget for 2024-2025 at the AGM, we received a message from the Development Fund requesting that we repay the ¥100,000 that we had received from them to support the conference. The request was apparently made on the basis that the SIG's funds had improved on the previous year, though the slight increase in funds was mainly due to the income from PanSIG and JCO mentioned above. A carefully prepared response from LD-SIG President James Underwood resulted in the withdrawal of the request, but it was agreed that the LD-SIG would consider sponsorship of future JALT events.
